

2026 Aerospace & Defense Reps & Warranties Insurance

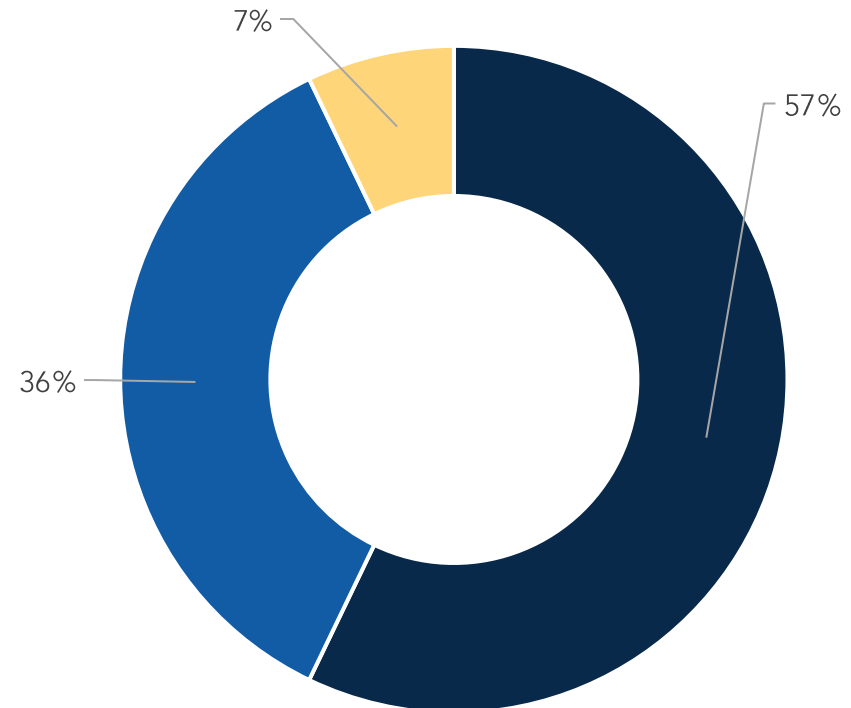

This Quarter's Survey

The use of representation and warranty insurance (RWI) continues to increase in middle-market M&A transactions within the aerospace and defense industry. In our most recent survey, 93% of respondents indicated that they utilized RWI in the majority of transactions, with 57% reporting that they employ it in all transactions.

Information Regarding Our Surveys

Our surveys are conducted in-house by the team at Alderman & Company, utilizing collection methods including our proprietary database of more than 15,000 senior executives and professionals worldwide who are associated with mergers and acquisitions in the middle market of the aerospace and defense industry.
